SpreadBoard Affiliate Partner Pack

A recurring-revenue partnership for crypto research audiences

SpreadBoard helps crypto-market participants compare live cross-venue spreads, funding carry, fair value, transfer conditions, and route history in one research workspace. Approved creators receive a personal referral link, a private tracking cabinet, and recurring commission on referred memberships.

What the audience receives

SpreadBoard is a read-only research service built around public market data. It does not hold customer funds, connect to customer exchange accounts, or execute trades.

- Live arbitrage discovery. Live cross-venue routes with market type, direction, matched depth, freshness, and transfer context.
- Funding research. Normalized carry comparisons, settled and projected funding context, and multi-period history.
- Evidence workspace. Custom spread charts, fair-price views, market events, watchlists, alerts, and position journaling.
- Two membership choices. Scanner for live discovery; Research Pro for the full research workspace and private Telegram forum.

The product is intended for users who understand that spreads can close before entry, funding can reverse, liquidity can disappear, transfers can be restricted, and market data may be delayed or unavailable. It is research data, not investment advice and not a promise of profit.

How the partnership works

1. Cabinet setup. SpreadBoard creates the partner account and generates a readable referral link from the channel name. The link label does not affect attribution or commission.
2. Audience click. A qualifying click is remembered for up to 90 days.
3. Registration. The first qualifying referral is fixed when the user registers, preserving future renewal attribution.
4. First purchase. The customer receives 20% off one 30-day membership value. A longer first term receives the same one-month discount once.
5. Commission. Each confirmed crypto invoice creates commission equal to 50% of settled plan revenue after the discount. Invoice-identification cents, refunds, reversals, fraud, and duplicate or self-referred accounts are excluded.
6. Weekly payout. Commission is held for seven days, then included in the next manual payout batch and sent in USDT on Arbitrum. The transaction reference remains in the cabinet.

Illustrative 30-day economics

Membership	List price	Customer first 30 days	First commission	Later 30-day commission
Scanner	$49.00	$39.20	$19.60	$24.50
Research Pro	$149.00	$119.20	$59.60	$74.50

Examples assume a confirmed 30-day invoice and no refund, reversal, tax, or adjustment. For a 90- or 365-day first invoice, only one 30-day membership value receives the 20% discount; commission is then 50% of the remaining settled plan revenue.

What the partner cabinet shows

- Personal referral link and copy button
- Qualifying link visits and attributed registrations
- Paying-customer count
- Membership tier and term for each settled invoice
- Net settled subscription revenue and the partner's 50% commission
- Commission status: on hold, payable, in a batch, paid, or void with a reason
- Payable balance, paid-to-date total, and payout-batch history
- Saved USDT-on-Arbitrum payout destination and payment reference

Partners do not receive customer passwords, wallet credentials, exchange credentials, or customer email addresses.

Clear, compliant promotion

Creators should explain what they actually reviewed and distinguish the research product from trading execution. Every promotion must disclose the paid affiliate relationship clearly and conspicuously.

Required disclosure for YouTube

Say and show near the start of the promotion, and repeat immediately before the link in the description:

AD — paid affiliate promotion. I receive a commission if you subscribe through this link.

Using YouTube's paid-promotion tool is encouraged, but does not replace the spoken, on-screen, and description disclosure above.

Good content angles

- Demonstrate how you verify a spread rather than quoting a headline number.
- Compare funding carry across venues and discuss reversal risk.
- Show the evidence behind a route: market type, direction, depth, freshness, transfer status, and history.
- Explain which membership tier suits a research-only user.
- State that viewers must do their own research and manage their own execution and risk.

Claims that are not permitted

- Guaranteed, risk-free, or certain profits
- Specific future returns or a claim that historical figures will repeat
- A claim that SpreadBoard executes, advises on, or safeguards trades or funds
- Fabricated results, undisclosed endorsements, spam, cookie stuffing, self-referrals, fake engagement, or bidding on the SpreadBoard brand

Onboarding checklist

To create the cabinet and agreement, SpreadBoard needs:

- Channel or public name and channel URL
- Partner's legal name or business entity
- Country and business or contact address
- Login and notice email
- Primary audience countries
- USDT wallet address on Arbitrum; this can be added securely in the cabinet
- Confirmation that the affiliate disclosure and program terms are accepted

There is no minimum sales requirement and no exclusivity unless separately agreed in writing. The final signed Affiliate Partner Agreement and the current Affiliate Program Terms govern the relationship.

Next step

Reply to the invitation email confirming interest. SpreadBoard will send a single-use account setup link so the partner chooses their own password, followed by the personal referral link and agreement for signature.
